

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

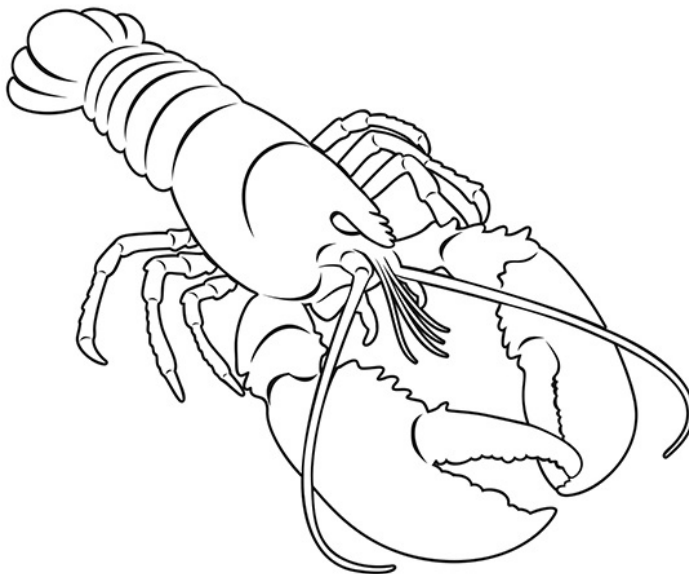

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Time for Big Lobster!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like seafood? Why or why not?
- How often do you eat seafood?
- What kinds of seafood do you like best?

Can Do Statements

- I can say and use the controlled er sound.
- I can use intonation to highlight contrast.
- I can identify key information in a short audio.

Let's Explore!

Aunt Nelly and Vanessa chat over a meal at Big Lobster. What do they order?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Aunt Nelly: Hi, Honey. Big Lobster is always so busy!
- Vanessa: They have a surf and turf special on Thursdays.
- Aunt Nelly: Nice purse. I love that shade of purple.
- Vanessa: I bought it at the store down the road, the one near the church.
- Aunt Nelly: The buckles are nice. I wouldn't mind one myself if I had the money. Which store?
- Vanessa: Lulu's of San Francisco. There are a few nice stores on that street.
- Aunt Nelly: Hmm ... That's my favorite boutique. What are you going to order? Oysters?
- Vanessa: I think I'm going to get a burger with fires. What about you?
- Aunt Nelly: No seafood? I'm getting the lobster mac and cheese.
- Vanessa: What are you having to drink?
- Aunt Nelly: Just a coffee, and you?
- Vanessa: A Diet Pepsi and a water.
- Aunt Nelly: Are you thirsty after all your shopping?
- Vanessa: I sure am. Is everything OK?

Let's Practice!

Can you use contrast words to express emotion or feeling about something?

Instructions: Complete the sentences. Write the missing word. Use you, your, my Oysters, Which.

Aunt Nelly: The buckles are nice. I wouldn't mind one myself if I had the money...
_____ store?

Vanessa: Lulu's of San Francisco. There are a few nice stores on that street.

Aunt Nelly: Hmm ... That's _____ favorite boutique.

What are _____ going to order? _____?

Aunt Nelly: Are you thirsty after all _____ shopping?

Vanessa: I sure am. Is everything OK?

Let's Practice!

Burn, turkey, turnip ... What do these words have in common?

Instructions: Practice reading the sentences aloud.

1. I think I'm going to get a burger with fries.
2. A Diet Pepsi and a water.
3. I'm getting the lobster mac and cheese.
4. What are you going to order? Oysters?

Extension Activity

You are going to order a meal at a seafood restaurant.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Find a seafood restaurant with an English menu online or in your city.
- Make a list of the 5 things you want to order.
- Write a 8-10 line dialogue between you and the waiter.
- Ask two questions in the dialogue.
- Use polite language.
- Read your dialogue aloud.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I read about seafood restaurants.

☐ ☐

I write down 5 menu items.

☐ ☐

I write a dialogue about ordering in a restaurant.

☐ ☐

I use polite language to ask questions.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- church (noun): a place of worship
e.g. We went to church every Sunday.
- burger (noun): short form of the word hamburger; a pattie inside a bun
e.g. I would like to order a burger and fries.
- purple (adjective): the color of royalty
e.g. I really like my purple purse.
- surf and turf (noun): a mix of meat and seafood
e.g. My surf and turf dinner had fish and beef.
- mac and cheese (noun): a meal of noodles, cheese and a creamy sauce
e.g. Did you finish all the mac and cheese?
- buckle (noun): something attached to the end of a belt to close it e.g. I like the buckle on your purse.
- to mind (verb): to be bothered by; to dislike e.g. Do you mind if I go with you?
- oyster (noun): a shellfish
e.g. Are you having oysters for dinner?

Learning Points

Intonation with Contrast

Key words or words about new information in a sentence are stressed when you speak.

When you want to emphasize one word or an idea over another, you change the sound of your voice. These are called contrast words. You can show emotions or feelings by stressing contrast words.

Example:

Say these two sentences aloud. Stress the bolded words. How does the meaning change?

Sally studies Spanish.

Sally studies Spanish, but she doesn't use it.

When you stress the contrast words instead of key words, you can sound angry or frustrated.

Example:

Say these three sentences. Stress the bolded words. Notice that the meaning of the sentence changes when you stress contrast words.

Sally said it is good.

John doesn't like it.

Where are they going tonight?

When you stress modal verbs, it can have an opposite meaning.

Example:

Peter would help us, if he were here.

People should exercise more, but many dislike it.

